

Local and Personal

Miss Maggie Rickel left yesterday for Los Angeles.

Mr. W. J. Mullin departed for Supai the first of the week.

Homer Dickison's family are undergoing a siege of the measles.

Jack Witherow and C. T. Thornton were at Williams on business last Tuesday.

W. K. Ross, the horseman, was in Flagstaff from Phoenix Wednesday evening.

Jos. Moritz, the original settler at Bellemont, was in Flagstaff a few days this week.

It is reported that a big baby boy arrived at the home of Tom Wagner last evening.

Miss Ebbie McKinney has taken the position of telephone operator for the Santa Fe at Cliffs.

Jack Woods is visiting the Black River Mining Co.'s property, in Yavapai county, this week.

No Sabbath school at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday. Other services as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weatherford have gone to Phoenix to spend the balance of the winter.

Billy Miller, the rock and cement man of Kingman, was in the city Wednesday. He is really not as hard a man as this would indicate.

Alexander J. Mackay, supervisor of the Sitgreaves national forest, was in the city Wednesday from his headquarters at Snowflake.

Mrs. Jessie Bushnell came up from Ash Fork Tuesday evening to visit her sister, Mrs. Charles Arters, who has been quite seriously ill.

Tom Wagner, a gentleman of veracity and understanding, came in from Miller Wash Wednesday. He reports that recent rains have filled all tanks in that section.

Peter Michelbach came in from the ranch on the mountain Wednesday. He reports that there was a heavy fall of wet snow which will produce plenty of water next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Barnard, of Williams, went through Flagstaff Wednesday evening on their way to Indiana. Mrs. Barnard has been ill, and is going east for treatment.

Mark W. Musgrove is issuing a handsome new seven-column newspaper at Chloride, Arizona, called The Standard. It looks like a live one and one that will live long and prosper.

Report was received yesterday by Judge Harrington, that an unknown man was found dead upon the track near Fairview. He had been cut in two, evidently by No. 3 during the night.

The New Mexico State Democrat is a new semi-weekly democratic paper, published at Albuquerque by Editor Albright, an all-around newspaper man. It is a healthy-looking production and ably edited.

Mrs. E. E. Miller, wife of the editor of the Converse (Ind.) Journal, accompanied by her little daughter, Miss Ingres, and Mrs. J. W. Miner, her mother, arrived in Flagstaff yesterday, to remain for several months.

Dr. Glaze Coming

Dr. R. Glaze, the Chicago Neurologist of Douglas, Ariz., will be at Hotel Weatherford Jan. 20, 21 and 22, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, with a full line of glasses.

PIGTAILS GOING, GONE, WENT

Many Chinamen Will Dispense With Queue Jan. 30 With Appropriate Ceremonies.

All the local Chinese daily papers publish what purports to be a message from Wu Ting Fang, the former minister to the United States, announcing the date he has fixed for cutting off his queue.

Wu says, "the most auspicious time for disposing of this superfluous appendage will be the sixteenth day in the first month of the year of his imperial highness Suan Tung Oy."

In modern chronology that means January thirtieth. On that day it is reported many local Chinese merchants will also visit the barber and emulate Mr. Wu's example. They will later celebrate the parting with their pig tails at a big banquet.

Deputy Sheriff Pulliam is a very efficient officer, and seldom misses his man even if it takes a dive into the Daugherty spring to get them.
